

DID DOCTOR AID PRIEST IN DISMEMBERING GIRL?

New York Detectives Have Arrested Dr. Muret on Suspicion of Connection With Crime of Father Schmidt.

LORD TOLD ME TO KILL RAVES FATHER SCHMIDT

Priest Says He Needs No Lawyer, as God and Abraham Understand and Will Clear Up the Matter.

New York, September 15.—An arrest was made late today by Police Inspector Faurot that another man was under arrest here in connection with the murder of Anna Amullee, the crime with which Hans Schmidt, the priest, is charged.

The man arrested is Dr. E. Muret, a dentist of 191 St. Nicholas avenue, who was left in charge of his home, No. 70 St. Nicholas avenue, in the vicinity of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and near St. Joseph's church, where Father Schmidt was arrested. Dr. Muret is about 35 years old.

Inspector Faurot denied the new developments would develop fully as an arrest of Schmidt.

With Dr. Muret is also held his housekeeper, Bertha Zeck.

Dr. Muret is being held on a technical charge of counterfeiting, and the woman as a material witness. Dr. Muret is 34 years old.

The police say Father Schmidt after was seen in the apartment in West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street with Dr. Muret. The agent of the firm also is to have identified Muret as having been in the apartment with Father Schmidt.

Inspector Faurot said that Father Schmidt had made no confession in implicating Muret in the murder of Anna Amullee, but that the priest continued to be a silent witness to the arrest of the priest.

"Then Muret often knowing the Anna Amullee girl," the newspaperman asked Inspector Faurot.

"Yes," was the reply.

GOD AND ABRAHAM TO CLEAR MURDER, DECLARES SCHMIDT

New York, September 15.—Hans Schmidt, the priest who confessed that he killed Anna Amullee with a butcher knife as a "sacrifice to be consumed by the Lord," in the observation of the watchful eye of Dr. McGuire, the priest physician.

Warden Fulton of the Tombs declared the man in issue—one of the most dangerous men ever confined in the prison, and in this view he was upheld by Deputy Commissioner of Corrections Wright.

From far off Mainz, Germany, there came today to Monsignor Joseph P. Huey, vicar general of the archdiocese of New York, a cablegram from the secretary of the bishop which said that Schmidt had been declared insane there, and expelled by the bishop. The message read:

"Schmidt, born at Aschaffenburg, priest of diocese of Mainz, arrested from Mainz because of attempted murder, arrested by bishop, declared insane by court and discharged, expelled by bishop, and expelled from priestly office, and expelled from priestly office, and expelled from priestly office."

The priest declared:

"In his cell today Schmidt told me and told the story of the crime, and told the woman was dead he cut up the body with knives and sank it in the Hudson river from the stern of a ferry boat."

"The Lord told me to do it," or St. Elizabeth, my patron, demanded the sacrifice," were the only reasons he gave for his deed, and he invariably added:

"God in His own time will clear it up. God and Abraham know why I killed her."

Alphonse Koebler, Schmidt's attorney, indicated today that insanity would be the defense at Schmidt's trial. On the other hand, however, the district attorney's assistants are preparing for a quick trial, and Schmidt declares that he is a criminal and not an insane man in the eyes of the law.

They declare that Schmidt is a criminal and not an insane man in the eyes of the law.

They declare that Schmidt is a criminal and not an insane man in the eyes of the law.

The portions of the body of Anna Amullee in the Hoboken morgue were positively identified today by Anna Hirt, who formerly had served as a domestic with the dead girl. She also identified clothing and trinkets taken to police headquarters from the apartment where the murder was committed, as having belonged to the Amullee woman.

Inspector Faurot spent the better part of the day tonight with a corps of men in translating a number of letters and documents found in Schmidt's trunk. One document, said to be a confession, was found in Schmidt's apartment. The affidavit lodged in the municipal court against Schmidt nearly four years ago, charging him with forgery and attempted murder, was also found. It was said, however, following testimony of witnesses to the effect that Schmidt was "not responsible."

IT'S EXPLOSION DAY FOR THE REPUBLIC BEYOND RIO GRANDE

Mexicans to Celebrate Anniversary of Independence Today—Anti-Foreign Demonstrations May Occur.

PRECAUTIONS TAKEN TO PROTECT AMERICANS

Secretary Bryan Hopes That Nothing Untoward Will Occur—Firebrand of Huerta Cabinet Has Resigned.

Mexico City, September 15.—Viva la Independencia! Viva Mexico! the cry which ushered in tonight the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Mexican Independence. As in the capital, so every city, town and hamlet observed the time honored custom marking the hour of the ringing of the first liberty bell.

Sharp on the stroke of 11 o'clock in the presence of thousands who packed the big square in front of the national palace, President Huerta appeared on the balcony and grasped the cord attached to the tongue of the big bell himself, and with a shout of the magic words instantly the crowd burst into an echoing roar of vivas.

Four Presidents in Four Years.

President Huerta's fourth anniversary year is now at hand, and the celebration at the midnight independence ceremony, General Porfirio Diaz for the last time sounded the liberty bell at the celebration of the 100th anniversary in 1910. He was followed by Francisco de la Barra as provisional president, who in turn was succeeded by Huerta a year ago.

For hours tonight the air was filled with hurrahs and fireworks. The palace, the cathedral and the municipal palace surrounding the big square and park were outlined in electric lights.

President Huerta, in a speech, declared that the anniversary of the independence of Mexico was a day of glory and honor for the Mexican people. He declared that the Mexican people were now free and independent, and that they were now able to govern themselves.

IT'S HOPED AMERICANS WILL NOT BE MOLESTED

Washington, September 15.—State department officials were tonight re-emphasizing the belief that no serious molestation of the anniversary of the Mexican Independence, though it might be marked by interesting developments, would not jeopardize the safety of Americans in Mexico.

They are confident that in the capital, where the federal authorities are in full control, there is no possibility of an anti-American demonstration that would involve risk of personal injury, while in the outlying states the officials are under the strictest injunction from General Huerta to extend full protection to Americans.

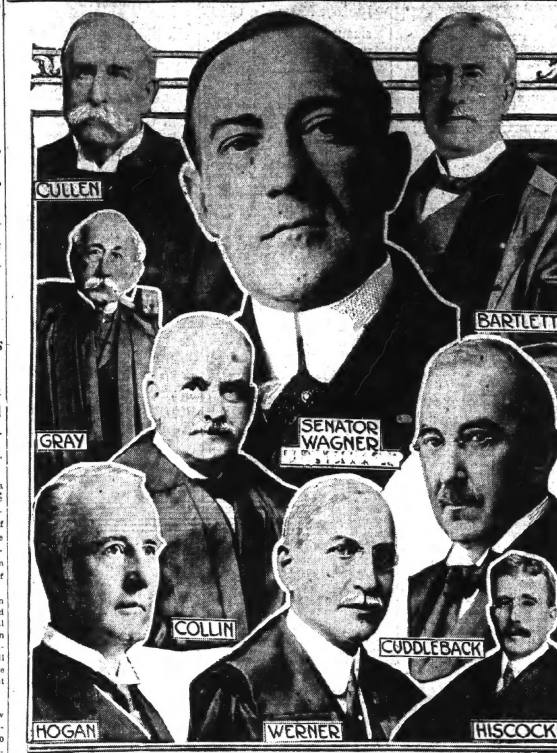

In the country dominated by the constitutionalists, the various local leaders are treating the anniversary with respect, and on the whole, the only element of danger is believed to lie with the irresponsible fringe bands that are particularly active in the southern section.

Secretary Bryan has sent messages to the American consuls at Chihuahua and Tepic inquiring as to the truth of the report that Morris P. Root, a nephew of Senator Root, had been shot at the latter place. In this case Mr. Bryan is acting entirely upon newspaper reports on the affair.

PLAN TO REFORM COTTON CONTRACTS

Rather Than Abolish the Exchanges—Amendment by Senator Hoke Smith Likely to Be Adopted.

By John Corbin, Jr.

Washington, September 15.—(Special.)—Reform of cotton exchange contracts rather than the abolition of the exchanges will probably be brought about through an amendment to the tariff bill being urged by southern members of congress.

The amendment has been framed by Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia, and Representative Henry P. Levy of South Carolina, after a conference with officials of the department of agriculture and with Mr. Barlow, the postmaster general, who took an active part in the legislation to curtail exchange gambling while a member of the house of representatives.

Lewis W. Parker, a leading cotton mill man of Greenville, S. C., was in conference with Mr. Barlow and Representative Levy today in regard to the proposed legislation. He approved the bill, and said that he had no objection to the tariff bill adopted by the senate which would give the tariff to the Liverpool exchange to hedge their contracts.

Fixing Gaining Support.

The Smith-Levy substitute was voted down in the senate yesterday.

For Spanking His Old Father College President Is Indicted

Terre Haute, Ind., September 15.—The Rev. Elijah M. Hanley, president of Franklin college, today was indicted by the Vigo county grand jury on a charge of assault and battery, growing out of his attack on his father, Calvin Hanley, last Thursday.

President Hanley is said to be at Terre Haute, Ind., and the Rev. C. M. Parker, a member of the board of trustees of the institution, told court officials tonight he would appear when wanted.

The alleged assault on Calvin Hanley took place at his home near Middletown, Ind., when it was charged that the minister attacked his father because of remarks made to his daughter-in-law and on account of treatment accorded Mrs. Hanley by the father, to which the son objected.

The father told neighbors that he had been beaten with a club and kicked by Dr. Hanley.

President Hanley in a statement issued at Indianapolis Saturday declared he had not beaten his father, but had "switched and spanked" his father for ill treatment of his mother and other members of his family. In this statement he recited at length what he termed abuse of his mother by his father and asserted he should have taken a hand in the matter before.

Before returning to Terre Haute Saturday night the Rev. Mr. Hanley went to his father's farm where a reconciliation is said to have taken place. Then, it was said, the father begged forgiveness for his actions, and the son, kneeling before his parent, asked his blessing and both pledged themselves to forget the incident and work together for the happiness of Mrs. Calvin Hanley.

When the reconciliation was announced a number of the board of trustees of Franklin college announced that the college was closed as far as the college was concerned.

The Rev. Mr. Hanley is regarded as one of the leading Baptist ministers of the country, having held important posts at Cleveland, Ohio, and Providence, R. I.

Indicted M. S. S.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 15.—The Rev. E. J. Hanley, indicted at Terre Haute today for the attack last week on his father, arrived here tonight from Franklin, Ind., but declined to discuss the case. Dr. Hanley said he would depart for Terre Haute tomorrow morning to surrender to the sheriff there. He expects to be able to provide bond at once.

FLOYD VETERANS ARE ANGERED AT REQUEST OF FEDERAL PENSIONS

Rome, Ga., September 15.—(Special.)—Confederate veterans of Floyd are split into two factions over the request of the federal government for the officers of the camp, in sending a letter of greeting to the Grand Army of the Republic reunion, now in session at Chattanooga, wherein he urges legislation to place Confederate veterans on the federal pension roll.

Floyd states that he has received a number of signatures to the letter. The attitude of the police in the camp is said to be to not want and not have federal pensions, and to repudiate the action of the real sentiment of the camp.

The letter is as follows:

"May your meeting on southern soil prove the harbinger of lasting peace between those who attended in that name, and the federal government. Let us take joint action on this eventful occasion in memorializing the congress of the United States to amend the federal pension law so as to include the Confederate veterans on the federal pension roll, thus proving our faith by our words."

As "Contemptible Coward" Dr. McConnell Is Branded By Mayor James Woodward

MOTHER DEFENDS YOUNG GIRL HELD FOR "SPOONING"

Assails Police for Their Action, and Dr. McConnell for Making Alleged False Statements

"SPOONERS" ENGAGED AND WILL MARRY SOON

Mrs. Nathan Weistman Says Daughter Met Sweetheart at Capitol Because Father Had Barred Him From the House.

In defense of her daughter, who was arrested for spooning on the capital grounds, Mrs. Nathan W. Weistman, of 280 East Fair street, told a Constitution reporter yesterday afternoon that the case was engaged to Gus Meyer, the youth with whom she was taken into custody by the police.

"They are to be married soon. They have been betrothed for weeks, long before their sensational arrest. It is a mild. Their acquaintance is of two years duration and their homes are in the same block. Meyer lives at 25 East Fair street.

Mrs. Weistman explained to the reporter that the only apparent reason the couple could have had for seeking the capital steps was the attitude of the girl's father, who, several months ago, had forbidden him to enter the Weistman home, in effect, it is said, to prevent the marriage at such early date.

Referring to Dr. McConnell's sensational statement Sunday night from the pulpit of the Tabernacle that the Weistman girl and her sweetheart had been given fair trial and were freed, Mrs. Weistman had to say:

"My daughter's character has been so attacked that she is almost ashamed to go on the streets. I can't see why it is people want to perpetually make her and tell false stories of her. It is outrageous that a minister should misrepresent things in such manner. He was tried and his case was dismissed. Against her. It was just that it was dismissed. She had done nothing wrong. They should have dealt with the policemen who hauled her into court."

HE LEAPED TO DEATH FROM NIAGARA BRIDGE

Niagara Falls, N. Y., September 15.—A man, believed by the police to be John Hawkins, 39 years old, of Erie, Pa., committed suicide this afternoon by jumping into the Niagara river from the lower steel arch bridge which spans the river just above the start of the whirlpool rapids. It is two hundred feet above the water.

The man was standing on the Canadian cliff saw the man climb on the railing. He saw the man fall and saw the man strike the water head foremost. He came to the surface once before the white foam of the big whirlpool caught him.

The suicide was the first from the lower arch bridge in three years. Hawkins was pulled from the bridge rapidly by a fireboat and taken to the hospital, but he was not brought to life.

Sending His Ultimatum to New Pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, He Addresses Him as "Ex-Detective" and Not as Minister.

WARNS HIM EVEN CLOTH WILL NOT PROTECT HIM IF HE OFFENDS AGAIN

Calls His Attention to Mistatements in Sermons; Declares He Is Publicity Seeker, and Urges Him to Attend to Preachers' "Spooning" Affairs Before Those of Laity.

Following Rev. Lincoln McConnell's scathing arraignment of Mayor James Woodward as the new pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle, he sent him a special delivery letter in which he stated that a minister of the gospel who will indulge in personal abuse is a "contemptible coward," and further said that he had stood for that sort of "stuff" long enough, and hoped that he would not have to call the minister's attention to the matter again.

Mayor Woodward did not address his letter to "Reverend" Lincoln McConnell, but to "Ex-Detective" Lincoln McConnell, young man, right for upon the ministry by dignifying him with any such title, said the mayor.

Mayor Woodward's letter in full:

"Ex-Detective Lincoln McConnell, Atlanta, Ga.—Sir: I notice by this morning paper, and I presume that you are correctly quoted, that I was partly the theme of your discussion last night at the Tabernacle.

"I am somewhat surprised to see where a man that claims 'even ordinary sense would allow himself to break off into the thousands of a dollar, to know nothing about. You seem to be so much of a 'know-nothing' that the mayor should take on the supposed apostasy of the state.

"Again, I want to say that you know nothing about the case in question, and you are willfully misrepresenting the fact. In one young man and his wife, the first couple were arrested and carried to the station house, had to remain there, and the second couple, who were arrested, had to remain there, and the third The Atlanta Constitution—An Institution

THE Atlanta Constitution is today, as it has been for years, recognized as the newspaper most typical of Atlanta, of Georgia and of the South.

Its name is a hearthstone echo with the day-laborer and the clerk, the silk-hat man, the capitalist and the man behind the steam shovel.

It is the voice of Atlanta, of Georgia, and of the South, to the nation and to the world.

That is why it has come to be known as "The Georgia Bible." People do not use illustrations of that nature without careful thought and long comparisons. You swear folk on the Bible. The people of Georgia swear by The Constitution because of its accuracy, its truthfulness, its inspiration, its cleanliness and its usefulness.

Why is it that Atlanta, that Georgia and the South turn instinctively to The Constitution? Why do YOU personally like the newspaper? Why does the native-born Southerner, and the great mass of other Americans we are so rapidly assimilating, rely upon The Constitution as a sure guide to Southern sentiment and the spokesman of right public opinion?

Here are a few reasons. They will interest you, since they analyze to the furthest the psychology and anatomy of the personality of "The Standard Southern Newspaper."

The paramount reason is that The Constitution today, as always, issues a complete, sane resume of twenty-four hours' news. It is not scrambled together with news half told and features cramped from very frenzy of haste.

It is a Southern newspaper—with Southern instincts and Southern viewpoint.

The Constitution was started with a great mission. It was established in 1868. The year brought the high-tide of the miseries and the tests of Reconstruction. A whole people was being born again. Chaos ruled the land. Bitterness and fear lurked at every corner. A negroid government was upon the people. The institutions of centuries' growth were in the melting pot. On each side was misgiving. Upon every hand was the need for courage and for vision.

It was the privilege of The Constitution to serve the city, the state, and the South under these conditions.

It was its privilege to stiffen the backbone of the timid; to soften the asperities of the irreconcilable.

It was its right to sustain hope when hope appeared folly; when thousands in despair were abandoning the South.

Where concession was compatible with dignity it preached concession.

Where inflexibility was indicated it counseled a stand that was unreceding.

The Constitution found little difficulty in this task. It knew the mighty and unconquerable spirit of the Southern people. It knew the superabundance of the South's natural resources. In those dark days, it looked beyond and saw the destiny that lay on the other side of the abyss.

The man who is closest to you is the man who has stood at your elbow in the day of test. That is how The Constitution grew into the warp and woof of the confidence of Atlanta, of Georgia, and of the South. Its hold has steadily increased with the years.

When the "Force Bill" threatened to revive the nightmare of Reconstruction, it was the campaigning by The Constitution that so stiffened the spines of Southern congressmen that the fight ensued which sent that ill-advised measure to the discard.

In later days The Constitution's policy has uniformly been one of construction, as against destruction; of reconciliation, not of vindictiveness nor the role of the historic ghoul.

The Constitution's viewpoint is nation-wide, not provincial.

In the politics of the city and state, The Constitution's attitude has been the same. It has conscientiously sought out and followed what it regarded as the best eventual interests of the majority. At the same time it has avoided intolerance.

The paper might be sincerely opposed to certain policies or candidates. That did not prevent it from doing its best to give them a square deal. The startling accuracy of its political prophecies has become proverbial.

The Constitution has always believed, and lived up to the belief, that while the editorial columns belonged to the paper, the news columns belonged to the people.

The Constitution has always recognized that the intelligence and strength of no community could be stronger than that of its farming element. It has always stressed its agricultural features.

It established first a Weekly and then a Tri-Weekly—which has grown into the greatest Tri-Weekly newspaper in all the world. It is preeminently the newspaper of the Southern farmer. It is the Southern farmer's every-other-day daily. It trails the rural carrier into 107,000 rural homes three times each calendar week.

This means, roughly estimated, and counting five members to the family, 530,000 Southern farmers and their families read The Constitution three times a week. The estimate is purposely conservative.

That is why the heart of the rural South, the feeders and largely the clothiers of the rest of us, look to The Constitution as the supreme court in all those functions a newspaper may discharge.

It is conceded that The Constitution's persistent propaganda is chiefly responsible for the diversification and the better farming methods that are gathering momentum in the South today.

This summarization explains why men, women and children through Atlanta, Georgia and the South regard The Constitution as the court of last resort for news, for breadth of opinion, for promptness, for education and for accuracy.

From the day in 1868, when the first crude sheet appeared, to this day, when the finished and expensive product leaves the great perfecting presses, The Constitution's efforts have always been to—

Keep close to the heart-beat of the people.

To make Ishmaelites of all the sharp-traders with the public confidence.

To sacrifice profit, if need be, for truth and for service.

To ignore gaudy and clap-trap methods, even though they brought a dearly-bought temporary success to competitors.

To keep jam up with progress, but never to mistake selfish hysteria for progress.

To cater to no class exclusively, but to be worthy of the friendship, or at least the respect, of all classes.

To hold such a course as to be regarded as the ever-advancing standard by which all other comparisons are made.

For forty-five years this policy has been religiously followed. That is why, whether people come from Atlanta, from Georgia, the South or the nation, they hail The Constitution unquestionably as fully entitled to be known as "The Standard Southern Newspaper."

That is why The Atlanta Constitution is something more than a newspaper. It is

A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION

It is that element of prestige, representing the confidence of the public for many years, that gives it an added value as a home newspaper, apart from its superiority in purely journalistic excellencies.

Its 50,000 circulation is superior for advertising purposes because its readers, probably half of whom have read the paper for a long period of years, instinctively give the advertising much the same credence as they do the news and editorial matters, being influenced by it in their purchases similarly as they are in other activities by the paper itself.

SHIVERS AND SHAKES FOR ATLANTA MONDAY

Is It Cold Because It's Cold, or Because "Uncle" Has Our Overcoats?

"The weather is cold, and will continue cold, because the wind is blowing from the northeast, driving the cool Atlantic ocean air inland," eagerly declared local Weather Forecaster, von Herrmann last Monday.

Which may be healthy, but, believe it or not, there is reason to believe that the weather is cold because so many of us—very many of us—have so thoughtlessly neglected to get the top coat out of the moth balls or the hook shop, as the case may be.

Summer Rage Half Price.
There is a boom, however small, that greets the weary and bedraggled pedestrian as he struggles manfully to hold down the edges of his aurore and feels the chilly blasts playfully twice about his ankles, where the silk box and the half shirt still predominate, and it is this:

"Rough late, B. V. D's, soft collars and tie are now half price. True, it isn't much of a boom, as boots go, but when one retrogrades back over the summer and remembers that the straw hat he saw for sale at $4, and no question, somewhere in the store, taken home in a paper sack for four bits, there is still a little to live for."

So far as can be determined from "lamp" at the more or less intricate apparatus at the weather factory, it seems that Atlanta is to have a week in the shade when it comes to pleasant weather for at least two more days.

The nearest approximation that the weather change give to a suddenly stirring public is to say that it will continue chilly and cold until Wednesday.

Equinoctial Period.
To slip across a little high-brow information the weather bureau calls the present weather conditions the "autumnal equinox." For the enlightenment of the low-browed the sun center is now crossing the equator line of untamed wind and rain is the beginning of the equinoctial storm. September 22 is richly the equinoctial point, but just to make the things distinct, the weather works is hurrying up the excitement this year.

A year ago this day Atlanta was basked in the intermittent but warm rays of the sun peeping from behind thin laden clouds. For the first time let down above on a grateful community, following an exceedingly well-swept, which had lasted for weeks.

The thermometer registered as high as 45 degrees over the city. Monday the lowest the mercury went in the bulb was 19 degrees, whereas yesterday the highest temperature Monday, who was 56 degrees.

In fact, a year ago the warm weather was general in this, with pleasant days following pleasant nights.

MAKER OF MEDALLIONS OF CLEVELAND DYING

An interesting figure in Atlanta's athletic life is being slowly but surely the illness of A. Pelligrini, for years a clay worker, in the manufacture of medallions of former President Cleveland and Mrs. Cleveland attracted nationwide attention when the country's executive visited here years ago.

Mr. Pelligrini is seriously ill at his residence, 481 Pulliam street, and the attending physicians give little hope of his ultimate recovery.

The noted clay worker came here in the early evening watching Atlanta's first term courts, father.

Self Help For Nervous Persons

Can often be achieved by a simple change of food and drink.

Much nervousness is caused by coffee drinking—eminent medical authorities having demonstrated that the coffee drug, caffeine, is a definite nerve poison to many persons.

Coffee has no food value whatever, and is a deceitful friend. Under its use the nerves first become irritated, then so sensitive and "on edge" that a slight variation from general health often appears most serious to its victim.

However, Nature responds quickly to common-sense treatment, and right living frequently does more than medicine. So, if you value peace and comfort, try this easy experiment.

Stop coffee entirely and have hot, well-made

POSTUM

This pure food-drink made from prime wheat has a Java-like flavor and a fine, dark brown color which changes to rich golden brown when cream is added.

It contains the genuine nourishing elements of the grain, but is absolutely free from the coffee drug, or any other harmful ingredient.

Postum comes in two forms.

Regular Postum must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A spoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water, and, with cream and sugar, makes a very palatable beverage instantly.

Thousands have been wonderfully benefited by using Postum instead of coffee—

APPEAL OF THE CHARITIES.

Unless pledged subscriptions to the amount of $3,000 are at once forthcoming the Associated Charities of Atlanta will have to suspend operation. The story is told elsewhere.

The suspension of the Associated Charities would be a public calamity.

What the Charities has done for Atlanta in making men and women and children cannot be put into dollars.

Three thousand dollars is a mere drop in the bucket to the men and women who subscribed it.

It means everything to the Associated Charities.

The association is the clearing house for constructive charity in this city.

It saves the city many times its up-keep each year by banishing mendacity from the streets.

It doesn't banish mendacity by ignoring it. It provides a cure.

The Charities doesn't dismiss the suffering man or woman with a quarter of the indigent family with a bushel of corn and a week's supply of groceries and then—forget them.

That is the old-fashioned charity, which made beggars instead of relieving them.

The Charities, first, relieves the need of the moment. Then it analyzes with trained precision the cause of poverty, the cause of vice, the cause of crime, always the same—and then sets remedial measures to work.

It views the effect, whether the whining street beggar or the "down and out" looking for a job, merely as a symptom.

It treats the symptom. It also diagnoses and treats the disease, which is what the average man and woman does not do.

Through years of experience it has built up a splendid efficient machine. The purpose of the machine is to—

Rehabilitate men, women, children. Reclaim all manner of criminals. Lessen disease. Discourage vice.

Its achievement is two-fold. The first benefit is to the direct object of its endeavor. The second benefit is to the community.

For to banish poverty, disease, inefficiency, mendacity is to stop the leaks which sap a community's vitality. The people the Charities reaches are the people who, unaided, help to swell your tax rate, fill your jails, your hospitals and your cemeteries.

The Associated Charities is, therefore, a manufacturer of efficiency; it is an antidote to many of the ills that prey upon a community.

The Constitution believes it is only necessary to remind the subscribers of the missing $2,000 of these leading facts to have the deficit speedily wiped out.

For that $2,000 is one of the soundest and safest investments these Atlantans could make.

It will return dividends not easily calculated, and they will go farther into the future than human intelligence can penetrate.

The directors of the organization, in order to keep it alive, have personally incurred notes for its growing indebtedness. Unless the $3,000 subscribed and unpaid is at once forthcoming Atlanta will lose its most powerful agency for practical uplift.

We do not for a moment believe the people of Atlanta will allow themselves to sustain this loss.

THE NATION PAYS THE PRICE.

Associated Press reports from Washington summarize the progress of tariff and currency reform and indicate that the preliminary program of President Wilson's administration will soon be on the statute books.

A significant line runs to the effect that congressmen are exhausted from long and protracted debates, and that they resent the conditions that have piled up the need for vital legislation at the very threshold of the party's return to power.

The whole responsibility for the surfeit of legislation, for the uncertainty in business and the travail in politics for the past ten years and at present, rests with the republican party.

It is the psychological moment to emphasize that fact. For the whole process illustrates the spectacle of political infidelity and reveals the nation as paying the price.

For ten years, or thereabouts, the country has wanted tariff revision and currency reform. Even McKinley, high priest of the high protection policy, admitted in his final public address that he had come to reduce the scheduled tariff.

He made similar statements regarding the currency system. Republican secretaries of the treasury have been emphatic in the same direction.

In the face of these conditions, in full knowledge that uncertainty and faltering were menaces to the country's welfare, the republican party returned public confidence with deliberate and systematic duplicity, half a loaf instead of a whole loaf, promissory notes for debts long overdue.

The democratic party inherited the result. The nation and the party are to be congratulated that the democracy is so promptly and courageously discharging an accumulated task not of its making.

The possibility of political infidelity should be so obvious as to henceforth discourage its repetition.

BLACK SHEEP IN EVERY FLOCK.

The customary shallow-pottery streaks against priests and preachers generally may be expected to follow the news of the revolting crime of the Rev. Hans Schmidt, of New York.

The Pharisee in the ranks of the clergy may be expected to arise, and while affecting virtuous regret, really elated over the downfall of a man under most orders and from the sin of one individual indict, by despicable inference, all his fellows.

Sin and crime, like disease, know no boundaries of creed or geography or race. Only a relatively short time ago Clarence Richeson, a Protestant minister of Massachusetts, was electrocuted for the murder of his paramour, whom he had gotten out of the way that he might marry an heiress.

Instances of similar nature crop out in all denominations, ranging from simple immorality to murder itself. The carnal instinct and the homicidal instinct are confined to no sect and no condition of life. There are black sheep in every flock.

It is, of course, deplorable when a man of the cloth sins atrociously; perhaps a more serious sin than when a layman sins aside, for the reason that the one stands out in stronger relief than the other. But if we set out to judge all preachers and priests by the wanton exception, we shall be not only unjust, but as well tear down the general level of righteousness upon which our common civilization is built.

BRANDEIS' INCONSISTENCY.

Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, is a smart lawyer and a useful public character, but, like many other big men, he is guilty of the sin of inconsistency. Here he is, in common with the brilliant Israel Zangwill, advising the Jews to return to Palestine. He even urges international agreement and action to that end.

The principal inconsistency about the counsel of Brandeis is that he has not himself seen fit to follow it. Shrug and profitably ennobled in America, he is forcefully pleading with his compatriots to return to the home of the race. They might, and the more sensible of them probably will, retort, "Physician, heal thyself."

The Constitution has never been a keen sympathizer with the Zionist propaganda. We believe there is plenty of room in America for the right sort of Jews, as for the right sort of Greeks, French, English and Germans.

Pure where you will, and the Jew makes a desirable citizen of the first type. They do not find many Jews in the penitentiary or many Jews lined up with the vicious or predatory class. The Jew is essentially law-abiding. That is a part of his religion. Where he breaks over the line it is probably in smaller proportion than would be found in the offenses of the people of any other creed.

As a common rule the Jew is a clean liver. He is a good neighbor. His hospitality is proverbial. His sympathy with distress hardly less so. He adds to the intellectual tone of the community, no less than to the business prestige. Wherever you put him he swims; you rarely hear of him sinking.

And yet it is this splendid class of citizenry that some of their own number would remove from this country and set to blaze strange trails in what to them is now a strange land. Were the advice followed universally it requires no imagination to see that the machinery of civilization would be temporarily paralyzed, paralyzed.

We have no serious objection that the Brandeis counsel will be taken seriously. In the meantime, it is up to the Boston lawyer, if he is sincere, to put himself right by catching the first boat for the Mediterranean.

Also, Haerta is juggling to beat the Bryan chautauqua bands.

If you could get Huerta to inspect Mr. Carnegie's Peace Palace, and lock him in the coal cellar!

They say another clever counterfeit $20 bill is out. This thing of getting an expert to search your bill is both expensive and tiresome.

The government will publish an official magazine, but we doubt if it will offer The Congressional Record as a premium.

Hail on you, sweet September sky!
A heartful welcome you shall win;
I tell my daily tasks good-bye—
And bid me to a friendly din.

Some dreamer
Fanned you for dream!

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MARION

The Famous First Part

THE COW'S INFLUENCE.

"You have so much to do with cows," remarked the professor, "you should be a contented man. John Burroughs says he's a happy man because he's a keeper of the great seal of the nation."

"Where the cow is," says Mr. Burroughs, "there is Arcadia; so far as her influence is concerned, she is a contented, happy, sweet, homely life."

"I'm not acquainted with John Burroughs," replied the low browed man, "but if he handed you such a line of bunk as that he isn't the sort of man I'd like to see my Aunt Julia marry. I suppose he was trying to tell you his family cow was talked that way. Don't let him work you, professor. His dollars to doughnuts that his cow can kick a hole through an iron plate and let first time you milk her you'll have to go hunting all over the yard to find your head."

"I never heard anything more ridiculous than such a statement. It may be that Burroughs had a stuffed cow, but I imagine that there would be some comfort in having a stuffed cow on the premises, but when you get into the milk business, contentment and harmony and peace put too high a price on any cow."

"The cow is the greatest disaster any family in the country ever saw," said the professor. "Just as soon as that four-legged creature appears on the scene, the house is divided against itself."

"I never knew two married people to get along so well as a man and his wife until last spring. They had been married forty years, and yet they acted as though they had just returned from their wedding trip. Then Doolittle's brother died and left him a long-legged cow. I remember the day he had his last home. He was a good man and his face was so covered with smiles you could hardly see his eyes. He was so happy that he had good luck, but I couldn't say anything encouraging. I told him that he would be a good man, but his wife would be throwing kitchen utensils at each other. He laughed my remark off."

"He said that he and Mrs. Doolittle had always felt that a cow was the only thing necessary to ruin their lives and that he had never felt as though they could afford to do without her. He said that he and his wife would be throwing kitchen utensils at each other. He laughed my remark off."

The World's Mysteries

WHO WAS THIS PRINCE OF MODENA?

One of the most remarkable impostors of the nineteenth century was the youth who claimed to be the secret Prince of Modena, and who was long accepted as such. A clear motive for his deception was never forthcoming; the only gain was a brief period of sunny prosperity. Hardly enough, it seems, to compensate for the wreck and ruin of his whole life. But there are many curious features in the story which must be classified with other instances of extraordinary impostors.

In 1748 a French merchant ship, being closely pursued by British cruisers, her captain took to the boats and landed his people upon the island of Martinique, then one of the French West India Islands. There was only one passenger, a youth of about 18, who called himself the Comte de Tarnand. He had a dignified deportment, and was chiefly noticeable from the extreme delicacy of his skin. He had embarked without servants or suite, but on board one of the crew became attached to his person and treated him always with profound respect.

The captain of the vessel gave him the information about the young count beyond the fact that he had been brought to him by Rochelle by a merchant anxious to get him a passage, who hinted that the youth was a young nobleman of the name of Tarnand.

The arrival of the exalted but mysterious personage was soon known through the French newspapers, and he was hailed as a center of interest. The count himself, however, he landed placed his house at the young count's disposal, and he was received with every mark of respect. The excitement which he caused by the name of thanks written by the guests.

He was killed by the guests, but Tarnand, the noble arrival, was not killed. He was not killed by the guests, but Tarnand, the noble arrival, was not killed. He was not killed by the guests, but Tarnand, the noble arrival, was not killed.

NOT COMFORT IN BIBLE FOR JAILED PREACHER

Shepherd and Flock Remain in Jail for Compromising Rape and Seduction Charges.

Rome, Ga., September 15.—(Special.) The Chatooga county jail was still echo to the prayers and lamentations of Rev. W. M. Hill and the complaints of his six associates placed there last week for contempt of court by order of Judge Moses Wright. Their occupancy of the jail is of uncertain tenure, but the limit of the powers of a superior court judge to confine for contempt of court is twenty days. Judge Wright will decide this week, probably Tuesday, how long he will keep the Chatooga men in jail, and it is expected that they will be released from their confinement in contempt about the end of this week.

Having served their contempt sentence, they will must face other charges. William Bagley, who was charged with rape upon a member of his own family, had been admitted to bond in the sum of $100, but his alleged action in endeavoring to bribe witnesses and to pay them for leaving the county and thus prevent their testifying to revoke the order admitting him to bond. He will be required to remain in jail until next March, when the next term of Chatooga county court convenes, and his trial on the charge will take place. It is not believed that William Bagley will be able to furnish bond on the charge of seduction against him. He is accused of seducing a very pretty young daughter of Washington Reynolds, a neighbor.

Pastor May Get Out.
It is expected that the other five parties will be able to make bond and leave the jail when their sentence for contempt ends. The seven charges against them in that order are: 1. Contempt in failing to appear at court of witness; 2. Contempt in failing to appear at court of witness; 3. Contempt in failing to appear at court of witness; 4. Contempt in failing to appear at court of witness; 5. Contempt in failing to appear at court of witness; 6. Contempt in failing to appear at court of witness; 7. Contempt in failing to appear at court of witness.

Indolence Throughout Case.
It is believed, however, that Solicitor General W. H. Bond has a strong case against him, but his own admissions in open court when queried by Judge Wright when he sentenced them for contempt of court, make it difficult in the possession of officers sworn agreements from certain of the parties that they would not make any admission in open court, to obtain obedience to the mandate of the court. Pastor Hill admits that he engineered the whole transaction and urged in extension that he thought he would be prosecuting the results of young women involved and acting as a peacekeeper. Washington Reynolds admits that he had promised to drop the prosecution of Hayes, alleged father of his young daughter, upon payment of $100 to Hayes' wealthy father-in-law, William Hayes.

One of the principal witnesses for the state in the case will be W. L. Hawkins, justice of the peace, before whom it is said, the defendants took oath that they would give the jurisdiction of the court. The seven defendants, headed by their pastor, went to the home of the justice at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and waited until 8 o'clock that night for his return to witness the parties. The justice had some misgivings, he said, about the transaction, but Pastor Hill assured him that they had consulted a lawyer, and that everything was legal. When this assurance was given, he also been cited for contempt was released, but was warned not to be a party to any more such transactions.

"Compromises" Worried.
The affair seems destined to have a salutary effect through the entire judicial circuit. For years past there have been rumors of sinister tampering with justice especially in Chatooga county, where a large percentage of the cases brought have been "compromises," settled out of court or "prosecution dropped." The action of Judge Wright, however, is a bombshell to these and it is thought that similar action in other cases will follow if the proof can be obtained. Reports from the Chatooga jail state that the prisoners are awaiting their confinement, philosophically, save the aged preacher, who fails to find comfort in the Bible and who moans and weeps at the humiliation of imprisonment.

Increases Self-Respect.
The man with a bank account, even though it be a small one, always walks more erect, with a larger measure of self-respect than the man without one.

Everyone who has succeeded in saving money systematically through a bank account knows that the small self-denial necessary is more than offset by the satisfaction of being able to conquer one's self and get ahead in the world.

Then the 4 per cent compound interest paid by this bank is something well worth considering.

GEORGE ADAIR

GOLF CHAMPION

Defeated R. G. Blanton 6 Up and 4 to Play in the Finals for the A. A. C. Golf Championship.

George Adair is golf champion of the Atlanta Athletic club. In the thirty-six hole finals, he defeated R.
G. Blanton by the score of 6 up and 4 to play.

Mr. Blanton's splendid driving throughout the entire match and his work on the putting green, coupled with a steadiness at critical points, earned him the match.

Mr. Blanton fought gamely throughout and played as confidently at the start of the afternoon round, which opened with Adair 3 up, as he did at any time during the tournament, but several plays the "rub of the green" turned to his disadvantage.

SEWANE TO PROTEST

High School.

(Special).—According to "Jenks" Gillem, captain at Sewanee last year, and Manager Gaas, of Sewanee, who were in Chattanooga today, Sewanee will file protest against the playing of Jene Patten, of Chattanooga, now playing at Georgia Tech.

Local fans are pulling for the protest not to go through, as Patten is the greatest halfback ever turned out of local prep schools, and they want him to blaze the S. J. A. A. Sewanee officials are investigating the case, and it is feared that they have "the dope."

BOARD WILL CONSIDER CASE AGAINST NORMAN

Wednesday night the police board will consider the case of Captain Norman, who is arraigned on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer which resulted from reports to Chief Beavers that Norman, while on duty in Grant park, had been discovered kissing a pretty young woman in public view.

Norman's trial was postponed from last Tuesday night. It created more general interest around headquarters and in police circles than any police action since Beavers' administration. Crowds that packed the building to the sidewalk awaited eagerly to hear the proceedings.

Captain Norman, it is reported, has been busily engaged in investigating his own case, and is seeking to obtain vidence to show that he is a victim of a conspiracy to drag him from the department, to which he has been attached for thirty years or more. He will produce a number of witnesses.

FIRE AT JONESBORO

The lower floor of the Turnipseed building was occupied by a barber shop, operated by Long Ellen, who, with his family, lived in half the upper floor, the remainder being given over to a store room for lumber. The stock in the grocery is thought to be utterly ruined and the total damage is estimated at $5,000.

Returned From Havana.

S. Valdez, manufacturer of clear Habana cigars, of Atlanta, who went to Cuba in August to purchase leaf tobacco for his Atlanta factory has returned and reports to the smokers of Habana cigars that this year's crop is of excellent quality. He extends to his customers his appreciation and guarantees them that his cigars are better this year than ever before, and also invites all those who wish the industrial development of Atlanta to try his cigars, which will supply the new evidence that Atlanta industrial products are superior.

8. Valdes has resources to build a large cigar factory.—(Adv.)

THAT HE APPEAR IN FEDERAL COURT

His Case Will Be Heard by U. S. Judge Aldrich Today. Thaw Feels Safer Since the United States Interfered.

Colebrook, N. H., September 15.—The judicial branch of the United States government assumed just yesterday the role of Harry K. Thaw tonight. By virtue of a writ of habeas corpus issued at Concord Saturday, United States Marshal E. P. Nye became one of the Mattawamscutt's captives and tomorrow morning Thaw will be taken to Littleton, N. H., and produced before Judge Edgar Aldrich in the United States district court.

The writ was obtained by Thaw's lawyers as a weapon against William Travers Jerome in case Jerome should ever fail to get Thaw across the New York border. Before the federal court tomorrow they will seek to have the writ continued to safeguard their client, should Governor Parker find against Thaw in the extradition hearing to be held at Concord probably on Wednesday.

Jerome will oppose the continuance of the writ and insist on an immediate hearing, even though there is a possibility that Thaw may be released from custody. Jerome believes Thaw's counsel would make no attempt to get their client out of the state under the circumstances and that Thaw would immediately be arrested and brought before the governor as arranged.

Thaw Trusts Uncle Sam. Both factions planned tonight to leave Colebrook for Littleton over the Maine Central railroad at 6:18 o'clock tomorrow morning. The distance is about 41 miles and the train, if on time, should reach there about 8:30.

Thaw tonight was eagerly anticipated the trip to Littleton. It is the first time, with the exception of bankruptcy proceedings at Pittsburgh, that he has ever been in the federal courts and the sovereign power of Uncle Sam gave him a sense of security against kidnapping.

Jerome said he reached Colebrook shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. The writ he now was against Hoffman, Thaw, sheriff of Concord, probably on having come to his home in Berlin for the afternoon, the marshal refrained from serving the writ and handed it to the sheriff in person on his return here tonight.

Jerome Gets Canadian Answer. Thaw spent an uneventful day. Only once did he leave his hotel and that was to get shaved. He heard with interest tonight that John Andrews, the Colebrook constable who arrested Jerome on the charge of gunnery, of which he subsequently was acquitted, had run afoul of the United States immigration law. Tonight Andrews was held here in the custody of Charles Kelley, Colebrook's chief of police, pending the arrival of George F. Allen, a United States immigration inspector. Allen telephoned that he had a warrant for the arrest of Andrews, charging him with assisting a pauper woman to enter this country in violation of the immigration law.

Jerome's Detective Cannot Arrest. John Lanyon, a private detective, who has been acting as Jerome's attorney since he was arrested, was told tonight that he was a live man, a native of New Hampshire, although he had lived in Colebrook for nearly twenty years, and knew nothing of the charge against him.

Those Held Responsible. Those held to be responsible are Augustus B. Miller, engineer of the White Mountain Express, and Bruce C. Adams and Charles H. Murray, conductors and firemen, respectively, of the Bar Harbor train.

The coroner neither blames nor absolves the New Haven road. He finds the signals were in perfect working order and that the signals were absolute or not—the accident would have been prevented if the company's rules had not been violated. He declared the number of violations of rules had been increased by a record.

Engineer Miller was arrested on a habeas warrant this afternoon and pleaded not guilty before the superior court.

Bench warrants have been issued for Adams and Murray. It is said they will be brought before the superior court.

The coroner's findings. In his finding the coroner says of Engineer Miller:

"The lives of a large number of people were in his care and he was duty bound to see that no accident or injury occurred. Engineer Miller was aware of the fact that the train was carrying a large number of passengers and that he had under perfect control right up to the time of the accident. He was not negligent and he was not responsible for the accident."

Andrews was taken to Canaan, N. H., tonight and will be arraigned before a United States commissioner tomorrow.

"I can't be too emphatic," said "Inspector" Allen, in saying that this man's case was committed to the United States court and that he was "dumped" on the border and reached Reading, Pa., tonight. His present whereabouts are unknown.

The complaint against Andrews recites that the name of the pauper woman in question was Hattie Willard Chamberlain.

The authorities said they had information that at once since she was an inmate of an insane asylum in Canada, she was committed to the United States court and that he was "dumped" on the border and reached Reading, Pa., tonight. His present whereabouts are unknown.

ODD FELLOWS MEET IN ANNUAL CONVENTION. Minneapolis, Minn., September 15.—Twenty thousand members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows were in Minneapolis today when the eighty-sixth annual national grand lodge convened. The program opened at a theater where Governor G. E. Johnson and Mayor Wallace G. Nye, both members of the order, welcomed the delegates and visitors. C. A. Heller of San Antonio, Texas, grand sire, responded, exhorting the members of the order.

Immediately following the opening meeting the grand lodge convened. The most important legislation to come before the gathering, it is announced, will be the age question, a proposition having been introduced at a previous convention to reduce the age for admittance to the order from 21 to 18 years.

THREE DEAD HERE FOR RAILROAD HORROR

Coroner, in His Findings, Neither Blames Nor Absolves the New Haven Road.

New Haven, Conn., September 15.—Three employees of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad are held by Coroner H. H. Mix to be criminally responsible for the disastrous wreck at North Haven on September 2, when the White Mountain Express plunged through the second section of the clanking Bar Harbor Express, causing a toll of twenty-one lives. The coroner's finding was filed today after he had conducted a "private" inquest.

NORTH SIDE ACREAGE

Most of us have looked with envy upon our more fortunate acquaintances who have years ago owned an "OLD FARM" in north Fulton county and who have sold out lately at the present value of the land, making a fortune over the original price.

We are going to offer a magnificent tract of 130 acres, 3 1/2 miles from Buckhead, and 9 miles from the city, at regular "old farm" prices. This land is on one of the most popular roads in Fulton county, thereby assuring it of a ready market. If you are in the market for a splendid investment, phone us and we will be glad to call and give you full particulars.
